

Evan Mayday's "Good" Death: Teaching Health Professionals Collaborative Care Video

TECHNOLOGY NUMBER: 3182

OVERVIEW

End-of-life caregiving training

- Learn collaborative care and creativity
- Real patient scenario

BACKGROUND

In today's highly technological health care system there are times when the trajectory of life-threatening illness shifts from a curative focus to that of providing comfort as the patient faces death. This shift between cure and comfort is often the hardest decision process that health professionals face in their interactions with patients and families. Yet it is also one for which many are least prepared.

Evan Mayday's Good Death site

OTHER

Evan Mayday's Good Death and Difficult Decisions in Pediatric Care is available in DVD format OR via digital download (.mp4 file). Each version is purchased separately, options and formats that you would like to purchase are listed here.

Technology ID

3182

Category

Content

Software & Content

Inventor

Linda Strodtman

Maureen Giacomazza

Further information

Lauren Suits

lswords@umich.edu

Learn more

