OVERVIEW

Interactive card game that helps leaders generate innovative solutions

- Equipped with 88 positive strategies derived from scientific claims
- Enables leaders to build high-performing organizations

BACKGROUND

The Center for Positive Organizations is dedicated to inspiring and enabling leaders to build high-performing organizations that bring out the best in people. Positive organizations empower leaders at all levels to create positive work environments, improving the culture of their workplace and helping them discover what is possible with their employees and within their organizations. Our mission is to inspire and enable leaders to build high-performing organizations that bring out the best in people. We are a catalyst for the creation and growth of positive organizations.

Our scholars at the Center for Positive Organizations have developed Positive Leadership The Game and other tools to help reveal and nurture the highest level of human potential. Positive Leadership The Game is an interactive card game designed for leaders at all levels that helps you generate innovative solutions to business problems through structured brainstorming. The Game is equipped with 88 positive strategies derived from scientific claims in Positive Organizational Scholarship. Played in groups of 3-10 people, this game uses the underlying principles of positive organizations to spark multiple strategies for leading positive change and development.
